2nd UEMS European Examination in Medical Microbiology

UEMS Section of Medical Microbiology is pleased to announce the 2nd UEMS European examination in Medical Microbiology, in partnership with ESCMID.

EXAM:

The European Examination will take place on the December 03 2024. The exam will take place from 12:00-14:00 CET (Central European Time).

This exam fee is €500. There is a 50 % reduction in the exam fee for candidates who have participated in the PILOT exam in 2021: their fee will be €250. The first 20 candidates to register, who have not sat the PILOT exam, will be offered a grant to reduce the fee by 40%. Their fee will be €300.

Only one reduction is allowed per candidate. The exam fee payment can be made after the candidate is notified that they meet the eligibility criteria and their application to sit the exam has been accepted. Instructions will follow on the registration platform.

If the exam cannot be held for any unforeseen events or any legitimate and sensible reasons, it will be postponed to the best suitable later date.

QUESTIONS:

The question format will be Multiple Choice, with single-best-answer questions. The questions will be in English only.

VENUE:

Online. Registered candidates will receive a link to the exam.

BACKGROUND

The examination is based on the Curriculum which is part of the UEMS CORE TRAINING PROGRAMME FOR MEDICAL MICROBIOLOGY (UEMS Section of Medical Microbiology core curriculum at https://uems-smm.eu/uems-smm/), current European best practice guidelines and recent pivotal publications in the major journals.

ELIGIBILITY:

The exam is open to candidates who are a Medical doctor, and are a trainee or consultant in Medical Microbiology. In addition, the country in which the consultant is employed or the trainee is training must be a full member, associate member or observer member of UEMS (on <https://uems-smm.eu/uems-smm/>). The trainees must have completed a minimum of 42 months (3.5 years) of full-time training as a doctor in Medical Microbiology.

The UEMS (European Union of Medical Specialists; <https://www.uems.eu/>) is a European organisation for medical specialists (medical doctors), and can hence only develop training requirements for medical doctors.

Proof of eligibility will be required. Eligibility will be determined by the completed application form and valid accompanying documentation.
